

Mark X

Mark X is an innovative edutech firm transforming the way people experience education through immersive digital environments. We combine advanced technology, creative design, and data-driven insights to build virtual learning ecosystems that inspire curiosity, collaboration, and continuous growth.

Our mission is to make learning engaging, accessible, and future-ready. Through our interactive platforms, institutions, educators, and learners can connect in dynamic 3D spaces — enabling real-time collaboration, personalized learning journeys, and practical skill development beyond traditional classrooms.
